U. S. SUCCESSES IN BATTLES OF JAVA AND PHILIPPINES HIGHLIGHTED NEWS

UNITED STATES IN PUNISHING BLOWS AT JAPANESE SEAPOWER

GERMAN U.BOATS, HOWEVER STRIKING IN ATLANTIC WITH FREQUENT SUCCESS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 —(AP)—The United States was exacting a punishing price from Japanese seapower for Nippon's Pacafic conquests today, but German U-boats kept striking hard with frequent success in the Atlantic.

In the savage two-ocean war of attrition, the capital sought to strike a balance of the gains and losses.

The toll taken of enemy shipping in the Pacific was heartening. Army and navy reports disclosed that since Dec. 10 a total of seventy-four Japanese combatant and non-combatant vessels had been sunk, seven more probably sunk and thirty-three damaged.

If losses on such a scale can be inflicted on Japan for the remainder of the year, naval officials indicated last night, her ultimate defeat is assured, because her shipbuilding resources are not equal to providing the necessary replacements and repairs.

In the Atlantic, however, navy statistics testified to the unrelenting vigor of the U-boat campaign. From Jan. 1 to Feb. 23 the number of submarine attacks on shipping of the United Nations in the western half of the ocean alone was 114 and forty-five of them occurred in American coastal waters. During this period, the sinkings of thirty-four ships have been officially reported from Canada to the Caribbean.

The raiders have paid for their successes' The navy said last night it had good reason to believe that three more enemy submarines have been sunk by U. S. action in the Atlantic, and four others damaged. This was the first announcement on the subject since Dec. 21 when Secretary Knox said that fourteen underseas raiders had been destroyed or damaged.

Nevertheless, there was evident need for more effective counter measures, for Prime Minister Churchill declared on Tuesday that the shipping losses of the United Nations in the last two months had shown a "most serious increase."

Toll Is Boosted.

His tabulation did not include the destruction inflicted by the army air forces or by the Dutch naval and air commands. The army boosted its toll to twenty-one a little later with the announcement that its heavy bombers had sent to more Japanese transports to the bottom off Macassar in the Southwest Pacific.

No complete accounting of Dutch successes was available, but a semi-official tabulation earlier this month credited the Netherlands with twenty-four certain sinkings, six probable sinkings and eleven

RUSSIANS DECLARE NAZI RESERVES IN NORTH DEFEATED

ATTEMPTS OF GERMANS TO BRING IN SUPPLIES BY PLANES BROKEN UP

MOSCOW, Feb. 26.—(AP)—The Russians declared today they had defeated reserves which the Germans were hurling into the flaming battle of the Staraya Russa area, where a Soviet ring of destruction closed tighter upon survivors of the smashed Nazi 16th army.

One of the reserve units said to have been beaten when it attempted to break through to aid the trapped troops was identified as the 56th Regiment of the German Fifth Division.

Dispatches from the front said Russian fliers and anti-aircraft guns were breaking up attempts by the Germans to bring supplies into the Staraya Russa area by transport plane.

"The ring around the 16th German army is tightening," Red Star reported in a sequel to accounts yesterday of the smashing of three divisions and slaying of 12,000 Germans guarding a network of communications in the zone 140 miles south of Leningrad.

(Belligerents gave no indication of the number of German troops in the army, but at full strength it would total at least 80,000 men and a Stockholm dispatch to London said 100,000 were threatened with death or capture in the Staraya Russa area, below Lake Ilmen.

(Berlin military quarters said 14,000 Russians had been killed and several times that many wounded southeast of Lake Ilmen in the past four weeks—more than twice the period covered by Moscow's triumphant account of the battle yesterday. Soviet authorities had made no specific pronouncement on German wounded or Red army casualties.)

Announce "Plant For Victory Week" Navarro County

March 1st through 7th has been designated as "Plant For Victory" week in Navarro county, according to H. C. Robinson, County Agent and secretary of the U. S. D. A. War Board. This occasion will be part of a state-wide observance dedicated to a concentrated drive in the production of essential food supplies in the "Food For Victory" program.

"Increased production goals of poultry, eggs, dairy products, pork, beef cattle, home gardens, ets., have been voluntarily pledged by farmers according to the individual facilities and equipment available on their farms for such increased production," pointed out Robinson. "Most of the hard part of the job, that of actually producing the food increases, is ahead of us. The U. S. D. A. War Board made up of the local representatives of the governmental agencies operating in the county, stand ready to assist individual farmers on any or all of the many problems that will be encountered in this program. Increasing shortages of farm labor and equipment, repair parts, indicate that increased production can be accomplished only by the most efficient utilization of available man power and equipment. Good farming practices, better feeding and management methods will play a big part in meeting our goal and the board urges all farmers to carefully check on all needed implement repair parts and order them immediately in order to avoid costly delays later in the season."

WOMEN EXPECTED TO SUPPLANT MOST MEN IN CIVILIAN JOBS

(By The Associated Press.)

More women than men are working at civilian jobs in England—and the same condition will exist in this country when America's war effort hits full speed, Henry J. Allen, Wichita Newspaper publisher and former governor of Kansas, predicts.

Allen, who speaks at the Dallas Salesmanship Club's meeting today, is national chairman of the British child aid committee of the Save The Children Federation. He has just returned from a trip to England.

Organized labor will pay dearly before the war ends for what he termed flouting of public opinion through defense industry strikes, Allen declared.

"When the American people finally realize we might lose the war x x x When American homes over the nation begin going into mourning for our huge manpower losses, the parents and wives and brothers of the men who went to die for $21 a month will inevitably lose all patience," he asserted in an interview.

"It will mean not only a complete end to concessions, but reprisals, bitter and far-reaching," he added.

Other aspects of the war scene in Texas included:

Only seven lost-time accidents, none fatal, occurred at the Naval Air Training station at Corpus Christi during 1941. It was the best record of any such station in the nation.

Reuben Zumwalt, a Kerrville youth at the Pearl Harbor naval base, wrote home that he enjoyed reading his obituary after an official report from Washington informed his parents that he was killed in the Dec. 7 Japanese attack.

Stimson Declares Los Angeles Raid Not False Alarm

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Secretary Stimson said today that unidentified airplanes possibly as many as 15, which may have been operated by enemy agents, were over Los Angeles early yesterday and were fired on by army anti-aircraft guns.

Stimson said the flight, described late yesterday by Secretary of the Navy Knox as a "false alarm" occurred between 3:12 and 4:15 a. m. Pacific War time.

Anti-aircraft guns of the 37th Coast Artillery Brigade fired 1,430 rounds of ammunition at the planes, which Stimson told a press conference were officially reported as flying at speeds ranging from "very slow," to 200 miles an hour, and at heights of 9,000 to 18,000 feet.

The planes dropped no bombs, Stimson said, there were no casualties among American troops, none of the planes was shot down, and no American army or navy planes were in action.

No Bombs Dropped.

Since no bombs were dropped, Stimson said, it was possible that the planes might have come from commercial sources operated by enemy agents to spread alarm, disclose the location of anti-aircraft

STATE DEPARTMENT BEING PRESSED ON PROBLEM OF INDIA

SENATE FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE MEMBERS URGE PRESSURE UPON BRITAIN

By JACK BELL.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—(AP)—The State Department is being pressed today to ask Great Britain for an immediate pledge of post-war self-government for India.

Influential members of the senate foreign relations committee, it was learned, made the demand on Breckenridge Long, assistant secretary of state.

When the subject was raised by Senator La Follette (Prog-Wis) during a closed committee session, yesterday, the recommendation was said to have had the active support of most of the eleven members present.

La Follette was reported to have told Long that, in his opinion, a whole-hearted war effort could be expected from India only if Great Britain gave definite assurances immediately that India would have actual self-rule after the conflict ends.

There have been reports that some such objective was sought by Chiang Kai-Shek, Chinese generalissimo, in his recent conference with Mohandas K. Gandhi and other Indian leaders.

SENATE FARM BLOC SEEKS CIRCUMVENT PRESIDENTIAL VETO

DIFFERENCES ARISE OVER DISPOSAL OF GOVERNMENTAL FARM SURPLUSES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—(AP)—The senate farm bloc maneuvered today to circumvent a possible presidential veto of parity price legislation by seeking to prevent the use of any funds in a pending $32,762,737,900 military appropriations bill for the purchase of crop surpluses at less than parity.

Senator Thomas (D-Okla) announced he planned to offer an amendment to the huge bill barring use of its funds to purchase any agricultural product held by the Commodity Credit Corporation at less than parity, a price calculated to give farmers equal purchasing power with others.

The senate voted 50 to 23 approval yesterday over Presidential opposition for senate legislation to prevent the sale of government-held surpluses of major farm crops at less than parity.

Senator Brown (D-Mich), leader of the group opposing the measure, said that President Roosevelt would veto the bill if it subsequently passed the house. Such a veto might be avoided, farm senators argued, if the proposed amendment were attached to the vital military appropriations bill.

Secretary of Agriculture Wickard meanwhile declared that desired increases in production of milk and dairy products were being retarded by growing labor shortages and by increases in the price of feed grains. Agriculture officials said congressional pressure for the price blocking legislation had tended to raise feed costs.

With a strongly-worded warning against impeding the war effort, 'selfish interests" and "grasping

BRITAIN ANNOUNCES THREE LARGE GERMAN WARSHIPS DAMAGED

RUSSIANS ANNOUNCE RING TIGHTENING AROUND GERMAN 16TH ARMY

(By The Associated Press.)

Great Britain announced today that "severe damage" had been inflicted on Germany's 26,000-ton battleships Scharnhorst and Gneisenau, which escaped in the battle of Dover Strait, and that a British submarine had torpedoed a cruiser of the 10,000-ton Prinz Eugen class off the coast of Norway Feb. 23.

The Prinz Eugen accompanied the Scharnhorst and Gneisenau in ther spectacular flight from the bomb-battered haven of Brest, France, on Feb. 13.

"Aerial reconnaissance subsequently showed a ship of the Eugen class in Trondheim (Norway) in tow of tugs and damaged aft," a London spokesman said.

"It seems probable that the ship was the Prinz Eugen, in which case all ships which escaped from Brest have been damaged."

The spokesman said the esccaped battleships were now lying in drydock at Kiel and Wilhelmshaven, where they have been the target of repeated RAF bombing assaults.

A British admiralty communique said it was also possible that one of the destroyers escorting the Prinz Eugen-type cruiser had been hit by a torpedo.

German Subs Active

On the German side of the ledger, a special bulletin from Adolf Hitler's high command asserted that Nazi U-boats had sunk seven ships totalling 52,000 tons from a strongly-escorted convoy in the Atlantic and seriously damaged six other ships.

A Nazi communique said that the ships were sunk "after an obstinate fight lasting for days" and that the six damaged ships were so hard hit "their loss may be reckoned with."

On the Russian war front, Stockholm dispatches said 100,000 German troops were threatened with death or surrender, caught in the steel jaws of a Soviet trap in the Saraya Russa sector, and that the Red armies were also closing a pincers on Hitler's armies retreating through the Napoleonic "escape corridor" from Moscow.

Russian troops, moving heavy guns over the snow on propeller-driven sledges, were reported knifing toward the Moscow-Smolensk railroad from two directions—north from newly-captured Dorogobuzh and south from Bely, only fifty miles apart—in a drive to bottle up strong German forces still holding out in the Rzhev-Vyazma region.

Nazi Reserves Defeated.

Soviet front-line dispatches said that the Red armies had defeated Nazi reserves hurled into the flaming battle of Staraya Russa and that a ring of destruction was closing tighter around survivors of the smashed German 16th army.

One of the Nazi reserve units, unidentified as the 56th Regiment of the German Fifth Division, was repulsed when it attempted to brea' through to aid the trapped forces.

With three divisions officially declared to have been smashed and 12,000 men killed through initial operations, the army newspaper Red Star said several additional German garrisons were being wiped out of the strategic communications zone 140 miles below Leningrad.

Berlin military quarters said 14,000 Russians had been killed in fighting southeast of Lake Ilmen in the last four week and, while

DISCHARGE OF SPIES IS RECOMMENDED BY PROBE COMMITTEE

DECLARES NO UNAMERICAN ACTIVITY FOUND IN STATE MEDICAL SCHOOL

AUSTIN, Feb. 26.—(AP)—A special investiating committee of the state house of representatives today reported it found no un-American activity in the University of Texas Medical School at Galveston but recommended, among other things, immediate discharge of Dean John W. Spies and certain faculty members in order to eliminate dissension at the school.

Signed by all members of the group, the report which was drafted following termination of lengthy hearings on medical school policies also:

Recommended that full power over and responsibility for the medical branch be vested in the President of the University and that the board of regents instruct him to build a medical school of the first class.

Asserting the regents had been "grossly negligent' in permitting present conditions to grow and exist at the medical branch.

The recommendations will be submitted to the University board of regents which meet in Austin Saturday.

The report came hours after University President Homer P. Rainey, the final witness at a hearing in the house of representatives chamber,' declared drastic action was needed to improve serious conditions at the strife-torn school.

Violation Sound Principles.

He testified a long-seated violation of sound administrative principles was the nub of dissension at the medical branch, declared the discharge of Dean Spies would not wholly solve the problem, and said he thought it wise that the school be moved from Galveston to Austin.

The text of the committee report:

"We the committee wish to make the following recommendations that the following things be immediately done by the board of regents of the University of Texas in order that the dissension between the faculty and the dean of the medical branch might be eliminated, and the full efforts of the medical branch of the University of Texas be devoted to producing and training doctors for the 'war effort.'"

"1. That the board of regents of the University of Texas, immediately discharge Dean John W. Spies, as dean of the medical branch of the University of Texas.

Faculty Members.

"2. There are certain members of the faculty who ought to be dismissed, but in view of the present critical national peril, you should carefully examine their records, and discharge those faculty members at fault as fast as possible as under the national emergency they can be replaced. They are obstructing the advancement of medical instruction in this state by preventing the efficient training of doctors under the present emergency. We feel that President Homer P. Rainey, of the University of Texas is qualified to determine who these faculty members are.

"3. The committe believes that the full power and responsibility of the fedical branch should be vested in the president of the university of Texas, and that the board or regents should instruct him to build a medical school of the first class. You should without fail give him all powers to accomplish this end, in order that the medical branch of the University of Texas

GERMAN WARSHIPS BADLY DAMAGED IN FLIGHT FROM BREST

BATTLESHIPS IN DRY DOCK WHILE BIG CRUISER HIT BY TORPEDO MONDAY

LONDON, Feb. 26.—(AP)—The 26,000-ton German battleships Scharnhorst and Gneisenau and the 10,000-ton heavy cruiser Prinz Eugen apparently have been knocked out of the war for some time to come, according to a naval review presented in the house of commons today by First Lord of the Admiralty A. V. Alexander.

Moreover, he said, the British submarine Trident sent a torpedo aft into a cruiser of the Prinz Eugen class, probably into the Prinz herself. The Trident also may have hit an escorting destroyer, it was indicated in a simultaneous communique from the admiralty.

The ocean-going Trident, 1,090 tons at the surface, has been dogging Germany's Norwegian sea route and it was there that she nailed the heavy cruiser. On Nov. 29, the Trident was credited with a successful attack on seven German transport and supply ships. Three were seen to sink and four were so damaged that their loss was considered probable.

Alexander's statement and the admiralty communique disclosed the close watch the British were keeping on the whereabouts of the three warships with aerial reconnaissance.

Battleships Damaged.

The two battleships which escaped from Brest, France, with the Prinz Eugen and ran a gantlet of surface and aerial attack in Dover Strait and the entrance to the North Sea on Feb. 13, were severely damaged, it was said.

One now lies in dry dock at Kiel and the other in the dockyard at Wilhelmshaven. Their present whereabouts have been recorded by aerial reconnaissance, an official spokesman said.

The Prinz Eugen—or at least a cruiser of her class—was successfully attacked by the British submarine Trident off the Norwegian coast on Feb. 23, an admiralty communique said. A torpedo hit was scored.

"Aerial reconnaissance subsequently showed a ship of the Eugen class in Trondheim (Norwegian port) in tow of tugs and damaged aft," a spokesman said. "It seems probable that the ship was the Prinz Eugen, in which case all the ships which escaped from Brest have been damaged."

The admiralty's communique on the Trident's attack on the cruiser, added that "it is possible that one of the destroyers escorting the enemy cruiser was also hit by torpedo."

Whether the Scharnhorst and Gneisenau were damaged in the aerial and surface attacks during their dash through the channel or were caught later by British warships or submarines closer to their North Sea bases was not at once made clear.

Despite the blows to the two battleships and the cruiser, the spokesman warned today that the United States and Britain "may be near

TIGHTENING UP OF DIPLOMATIC FRONTS IN LATIN AMERICA

PRESIDENT SHIFTS OR ELEVATES U. S. ENVOYS IN SEVEN NATIONS TO SOUTH

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Tightening up the diplomatic front in Latin America, President Roosevelt today shifted or elevated this country's envoys in seven countries below the Rio Grande.

The nations affected are Ecuador and Paraguay, where the ministers were raised to the rank of ambassador; Bolivia, also given the embassy ranking, and Colombia, Costa Rica, the Dominican Republic and Nicaragua.

There were the nominations sent to the senate by President Roosevelt for confirmation:

Pierre de L. Boal, now minister to Nicaragua, to be ambassador to Bolivia. The former ambassador to Bolivia, Douglas Jenkins, had resigned.

Arthur Bliss Lane, now minister to Costa Rica, to be ambassador to Colombia, succeeding Spruille Braden, who was appointed ambassador to Havana, replacing George S. Messersmith, who went to the American embassy in Mexico.

Robert M. Scotten, now minister to the Dominican Republic, to be minister to Costa Rica.

Avra M. Warren, now chief of the state department's visa division in Washington, to be minister to the Dominican Republic.

James B. Stewart, now consul general in Zurich, Switzerland, to be minister to Nicaragua.

Two ministers raised to the rank of ambassador were Boaz Long, accredited to Ecuador, and Wesley Frost, serving in Paraguay.

WAR ANALYST M'KENZIE WARNS AGAINST RUMOR-MONGERS AND SLANDERERS AMONG OWN PEOPLE

By DeWITT MACKENZIE,
Wide World War Analyst.

Washington's action in rounding up enemy aliens and interning the dangerous element, as further evidenced in Attorney General Biddle's report, is a great battle won for our country, since there is in our midst a host of enemy agents such as played a large part in the downfall of unhappy France and unwary democracies.

When enemy aliens have been smoked out, however, there still will remain at large another far greater group which daily is doing untold damage—the rumor-mongers and slanderers among our own people. Some of their work is deliberate and vicious, for they are the Quislings who side with the enemy. Some of it is due to addlepatedness which sops up idle wargossip and axis propaganda and spews it out in public places, lowering the morale of others and in effect sabotaging our war effort.

Something goes wrong somewhere on the vast expanse of ocean which covers two-thirds of the earth's surface, and you hear a raucous voice squaw:—"Where the hell's the American navy! Did the Japs sink it all!"

Well, where is our navy? Silently and without advertising, it's helping to police the seven seas, domination of which is essential to our victory. As President Roosevelt pointed out Monday night, among other things it is keeping open our four main lines of communication—"the North Atlantic, the South Atlantic, the Indian Ocean and the South Pacific . . . The maintenance of these vital lines is a very tough job."

Hunting Down Subs.

Our navy is hunting down submarines off our coasts, and keeping these sea-wolves from committing greater depredations than they already have achieved. It's extending protection clear down to our sister republics of South America. But why waste time arguing? Fifth columnists and Quislings will pop up with another insidious question and the rumor-mongers will start to bleat again.

Then we get the folk who constantly are slinging mud at our

Vital Rangoon Objectives Being Burned by British

By DANIEL DeLUCE.

MANDALAY, Burma, Feb. 26.—(AP)—British Imperial forces, fighting with their backs to the wall in a desperate effort to save Rangoon, have fired vital installations there to prevent them from falling into Japanese hands, advices from the Burmese capital said today.

Travelers arriving here from Rangoon said smoke was rolling over the city from blazes touched off by demolition squads and that a vital oil refinery had been left a charred ruin.

Although British lines were said to be holding on the west bank of the Sittang river above the virtually depopulated capital, all that the Imperial forces could offer, apparently, was a delaying action.

At the line of the Sittang the Japanese had reached the top of the Gulf of Martaban, less than 70 miles from Rangoon, and had crossed all but the last of the river barriers on the path of their advance.

Some British and Indian battalions had lost heavily in the prolonged fighting against heavier numbers which have staggered Burma's defenses back across the Salween and Bilin rivers.

LARGE NUMBER OF CITIZENS DISCUSS COUNTY HEALTH UNIT

PERMANENT ADVISORY COMMITTEE NAMED TO CO-OPERATE WITH OFFICIALS

In response to a call from the Health Committee of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce, of which Dr. Wilson David is chairman, taxpayers and representatives of city and county organizations overflowed the Chamber of Commerce headquarters on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and further made it known by their presence that they desired the establishment of a health unit in Navarro county.

Dr. David presided during the meeting, and enumerated the many advantages to be gained from a county health unit. He explained that the meeting had been called to elect a permanent advisory committee to co-operate with city and county officials concerning ways and means of carrying out the project.

New Committee.

Personnel of the new committee, elected unanimously, is as follows:

Dr. Wilson David, chairman; Mrs. Kirke Steele, Mrs. Edgar Davis of Dawson; Mrs. L. A. Wortham, Mrs. W. C. Wasson of Kerens, Judge E. D. McCormick, Mayor J. C. Calhoun, W. E. McKinney, Paul Mitchell, and J. C. Watson.

Among those who discussed the urgent need and timeliness of the health unit were R. W. Knight, retiring secretary of the Chamber of Commerce; Dr. William T. Shell, Jr., president Navarro County Medical society; J. H. Robertson, superintendent of the State Home; Mayor R. F. Bartlett of Rice; Mayor E. S. Allen of Richland and J. K. Brim, principal of the Angus schools.

The consensus of opinion among those present was that the citizenship of Navarro County has

Special Training Mandatory For All Air Raid Wardens

All air raid wardens in Navarro county who expect to qualify for permanent places in the Civilian Defense setup, be entitled to wear the official insigna and receive all of the privileges of the service must attend the five-hour course of instruction on Friday night according to Chief Warden W. E. McKinney.

The course will be presented in the auditorium of the Corsicana Junior High School on Friday evening beginning promptly at 6:30, according to the official announcement and all wardens are expected to bring notebooks and pencils for the occasion.

The instructor for the evening will be George Gamble, assigned to war duties from the Texas Department of Public Safety. In addition to a more detailed explanation of the entire setup in county, state and nation, the course will include various types of special training to be presented including the combating of incendiary bombs, and similar work.

Commenting on the fact that this county has been recognized as one of the most active and completely organized in the entire Southwest, the chief warden urged that all of the workers be in their places promptly and be prepared to take the further steps necessary in the development of an adequate civilian organization.

GRIM BURMA DRAMA NOW MOVING TOWARD ITS FATEFUL CLIMAX

U. S. SUBMARINES SINK MORE JAP SHIPS; M'ARTHUR IN SURPRISE ATTACK

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor.

American forces scored triumphs today in the Philippines and the battle for Java where Secretary of War Stimson declared the United Nations were putting up a "magnificent" defense and inflicting losses heavier than the Japanese had admitted.

Stimson asserted, however, that the dangers of war actually loomed over American coastal cities. He said unidentified planes, possibly as many as fifteen and perhaps operated by enemy agents, were over Los Angeles early yesterday during a raid which Navy Secretary Frank Knox characterized earlier as a "false alarm."

Paying tribute to British Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell, allied commander in the Southwest Pacific, Stimson said "we realize fully the importance of the situation in Java and we are giving every bit of aid possible."

He disclosed that Gen. Wavell sustained a broken rib in an aircraft accident in a visit to Singapore the day before it fell, and said Wavell had wanted to fly to Bataan to visit Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

MacArthur advised him against it because of the risk, Stimson said.

Rangoon In Flames.

While the Americans were hitting out against the Japanese in the Philippines and from Java, the grim drama of Burma moved toward a climax with Rangoon reported in flames and British imperial defenders holding grimly to the Sittang River line against heavy odds.

So far, the British said, there has been "no evacuation of military personnel" from Rangoon, the Burmese capital, but it was apparent little hope was held out that the city could be saved.

In Calcutta, 740 miles across the Bay of Bengal from Rangoon, the steady approach of Japan's invasion hordes through the Burma gateway to India heightened preparations for resistance.

Trenches were being dug in Calcutta's streets and 500 buildings in the teeming metropolis were taken over as air-raid shelters.

In the battle of the Dutch Indies, United States submarines smashing at Japan's sea-borne invaders were officially reported to have torpedoed two enemy troop transports, an auxiliary ship and a freighter, and Washington naval quarters predicted Japan's ultimate defeat at the present rate of sea losses.

A bulletin from Dutch East Indies headquarters announced the

U. S. SUBMARINES DEAL DESTRUCTION UPON JAPANESE SHIPS

DUTCH DEFENSE FORCES STILL FIGHTING DELAYING ACTIONS ON ISLANDS

BATAVIA, N. E. I., Feb. 26.—(AP)—United States submarines, carring on an intensified allied naval affensive touched off by the Japanese invasion of Bali, were credited officially today with torpedoing two enemy troop ships, a naval auxiliary and a freighter and probably scoring a hit on a Japanese cruiser or destroyer within the last two days.

The submarine which attacked the warship was forced to submerge before it could observe the effect of its torpedo.

The location of the action was not specified by the Dutch East Indies high command, which reported yesterday that allied bombing planes had sunk three transports in the waters off Macassar in southwestern Celebes.

(In Washington yesterday the war department said heavy fortress type bombers had sunk two large transports of Macassar. There was every indication, therefore, of a concerted attack by the United Nations forces to smash any new concentration of enemy ships preparing either to reinforce the troops which have invaded Bali or to launch a direct assault on Java itself.

(The invasion fleet which opened the attack on Bali last Friday night was battered and disrupted by United States and Dutch warships and bombing planes.)

At the same time, Dutch defense forces in the outlying portions of the Indies Archipelago still were fighting vital delaying actions designed to hold off as long as possible the expected all-out offensive against this thickly-populated United Nations stronghold of Java.

SLIGHT INCREASE MARCH ALLOTMENT AUTOMOBILE TIRES

CHAIRMAN OF COUNTY RATIONING BOARD ALSO URGES RETURN HOARDED SUGAR

A slight increase in the March allotment of new automobile tires and tubes for Navarro County compared with the February quota was revealed Thursday by Wilbur Wright, chairman of the county rationing board.

Assigned to Navarro County are forty-four passenger car tires and thirty-seven tubes together with 132 truck tires and 148 tubes. Provisions were made for the first time this month for retreading with the county being allowed fifty-seven retreads.

Discussing the practice of tire dealers in charging for tire inspections, Chairman Wright announced that a dealer cannot charge for a tire inspection without actually removing the tire from the rim. For this service a fee not to exceed 50 cents can be charged, he said.

With sugar rationing plans developing, Chairman Wright appealed to citizens who have made excess purchases of sugar to either divide with persons unable to obtain it or return it to the local grocery stores where their mony will be refunded. The first steps, he indicated, would be to appeal to the patriotism of the people. This announcement, he added, was being made at suggestion of the state rationing board, pointing out that he was unable to ascertain whether there was an immediate shortage in this area or not.

Sugar Registration.

Sugar registration will begin about March 9, he said, with wholesalers and retailers giving detailed reports on stocks available. The general citizenship will then register March 18-21, inclusive, in order that rationing certificates can be provided. Further details will be announced later, he said.

Replying to several inquiries about eligibility of ministers for new tires, Chairman Wright pointed out briefly that regulations provide that any regular practicing minister of any faith who is using his automobile for religious purposes can be considered eligible for new tires. Granting of certificates to these ministers is not mandatory and can be withheld at the discretion of the board, he said.

Aliens Seized in Birmingham.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Feb. 26.—(AP)—Six enemy aliens were taken into custody and a quantity of prohibited articles seized in raids in the Gulf coast area of Alabama, the Federal Bureau of Investigation announced today.

E. P. Guinane, special agent in charge of the FBI, said all the raids were in Baldwin county, near the Mobile shipyards and Fort Morgan at the mouth of Mobile Bay.

WHERE ANTI-AIRCRAFT OPENED UP

Map spots areas (1) about Los Angeles where anti-aircraft guns opened up and searchlights sought out either a plane or a blimp. The object moved down the coast from Santa Monica and disappeared south of the Signal Hill oil fields. All of Southern California was blacked out. At Goleta (2) a submarine previously had fired 25 shells into an oil field.

CORSICANA NATIVE DIED IN PLAINVIEW AND BURIED THERE

PLAINVIEW, Feb. 26.—Funeral services were held here Wednesday for Mrs. G. A. Barnhart, aged 77 years, who died at her home here Tuesday with a heart attack.

A native of Corsicana, Texas, Mrs. Barnhart had resided in this section since 1882. She was married to Charley Epps at the age of 15 years. Mr. Epps died in 1920 and in 1930 she was married to G. A. Barnhart.

Surviving are her husband, a son, Victor Epps, Santa Rosa, N. M., five grandchildren and several great-grandchildren.

INTERNATIONAL

attacks occurred within the past 48 hours.

Jap Warship Believed Hit.

In addition, a Japanese warship one of a squadron, was listed as "presumed' hit. The attacking United States submarine was forced to dive before it could observe the effect of its torpedo.

Amid these allied counter-punches, the Japanese invaders appeared to have overrun most of lower Sumatra, across the 15-mile fide Sunda Strait from Java, and also advanced down the west coast of Dutch Borneo.

In the Philippines, a bulletin from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's hedaquarters reported that American and Filipino tropos launched a surprise attack and hurled the Japanese back several kilometers on the Bataan Paninsula.

It was the first sizeable advance from Gen. MacArthur's beleaguered defenders since they were driven into the Bataan mountain wilderness nearly two months ago.

A communique issued at 9:30 a. m., Eastern War Time, said fighting was still in progress, with continued success for the American-Filipino attackers.

Told Make Own Interpretation.

A war department spokesman in Washington advised newsmen to "make your own interpretation" of the reversal inflicted on the Japanese. There was no suggestion, however, that reinforcements may have arrived.

On the other hand, speculation arose that heavy Japanese losses at sea may have forced Japan to divert shipping from the Philippines to support her multi-pointed attack against the Dutch East Indies, thus leaving Gen. Homma's armies without adequate military supplies to execute the long-awaited offensive against Gen. MacArthur's men.

For the first time in weeks, the communique also mentioned sporadic fighting on Mindanao Island, 600 miles south of Bataan.

The new blows to Japan's sea power capped an official disclosure in Washington that since Dec. 10 a total of 74 Japanese ships had been sunk, seven more probably sunk and 33 damaged.

"They can't keep these losses up over a year with their building program," a naval spokesman said, adding that unless Japan could succeed in making this a "quick and fast" war, she could not hope to win.

Zero Hour Near For Java.

Despite fierce counter-blows by Allied planes, warships and submarines, official dispatches indicated that Japan was pressing her southward march of conquest with an all-out fury and that "zero hour" was near in the battle for Java.

Dutch headquarters acknowledged that the invaders, striking down through lower Sumatra, had reached the narrow Sunda Strait directly across from Java.

An N. E. I. communique said Dutch naval forces bombed Japanese storage yards near Costhaven, which is the Dutch name for the port of Telok Betong, on a bay at Sumatra's southern tip. Sunda Strait at that point is 50 miles wide.

Japanese warplanes roared over Java itself in the seventh sucessive day of intensive attacks, bombing the great Soerabaja naval base and airdromes in Western Java. The toll at Soerabaja was listed as seven killed, 19 seriously wounded.

Fighting On Celebes.

The Dutch communique also reported that fighting raged "with unabated fierceness' on the island of Celebes and acknowledged Japanese capture of Sinkang in western Borneo and the tin-producing island of Bangka, off the east coast of lower Sumatra.

In the batle of Burma, a Reuters (British News Agency) dispatch said fresh Chinese troops were streaming southward into the beleaguered British colony, ready to combat any Japanese thrust northward toward Mandalay, 375 miles above Rangoon.

London military quarters said advancing Chinese had already clashed with the Japanese in "patrol actions" in the northern Shan States of Burma.

Oil Refinery Burned.

While British Imperial troops fought with their backs to the wall in a desperate attempt to save Rangoon, demolition squads started destroying vital installations. Black smoke rolled over the Burmese capital, and only charred ruins marked the site of a big oil refinery.

The Netherlands East Indies, which also had used the scorched earth policy rigorously to minimize Japanese victories in outlying islands, were officially advised that beleaguered Java had a reasonable fighting chance.

"The time for destruction and withdrawal has now ended," Lieutenant Governor-General Hubertus J. van Mook said in a Batavia broadcast. "The time for holding out and attacking has come."

Stream of Reinforcements.

Van Mook told Java's 40,000,000 people that the allied troops—including United States aerial squadrons—which are in Java "will remain and will be maintained through a regular stream of reinforcements."

Japanese forces invading Burma apparently were still being held at the Sittang River, with the closest some 60 miles from Rangoon, but the fighting of British and Indian troops appeared at best to be merely a delaying action and there was the possibility of a direct Japanese thrust across the Gulf of Martaban from the Moulmein area.

Japanese conquest of the southern zone would finally end the value of the Burma road as a war supply route to China—although this has already been discontinued by trans-India transport arrangements—and open the war for a push north and west against the Shan States and India.

Claim Aircraft Carrier Hit.

TOKYO, (From Japanese Broadcast), Dec. 26.—(AP)—Imperial headquarters declared today that an "enemy aircraft carrier" was severely damaged and set afire on Feb. 21 when several Japanese naval planes plunged headlong onto her, detonating their still racked bombs in the crash.

"In view of the extent of the damage, the vessel is believed to be lost although the sinking is not confirmed," the announcement said.

It pictured the attack as a mass, suicidal assault in the tradition of Oriental self-sacrifice. The locale of the att... was given as several hun... miles northeast of New Gu...

HOMEMAKERS URGED SHOW ECONOMY IN AVOIDING WASTES

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 26.—(Special).—Homemakers in this country are challenged to refute the old saying: "A woman can throw out more with a teaspoon than a man can bring in with a shovel." Louis Bryant, extension service specialist in home management, says it's largely up to the woman to avoid teaspoon wastes. Small losses multiplied in thirty-four million homes can amount to wastes which stagger the imagination.

Here are some suggestions she offers to consumers.

Plan shopping lists in advance and don't order by telephone or you likely won't get the best selections. Don't do all your shopping at one store.

Read all labels carefully, and as often as possible buy by official government grades fixed by the Agricultural Marketing Service. Notice cost per ounce as well as cost per can.

Buy fruits and vegetables in season, for out of season they are likely to be expensive and poor flavor and quality. Instead of by the bunch or piece, try buying by the pound. Watch your own and the storekeepers' weights.

Investigate the possibility of saving by buying in quantity provided you have available cash and ample storage room. Learn about the uses, food values, and limitations of food substitutes such as oleomargarine for butter, and cheaper cuts of meat for the more expensive. When food has been purchased there is still plenty of opportunity to prevent waste. Perishables should be put into the refrigerator immediately. Outer leaves of cabbage and lettuce should be saved and used. Potatoes and apples should be peeled thin or not at all. Homemakers should also save fats, bread crumbs, pan drippings, and the liquid in which vegetables have been cooked.

Richland Girl To Receive Degree In Social Work SHSTC

HUNTSVILLE, Feb. 27.—(Spl.)—Miss Beth Hendon of Richland completed work for her bachelor of science degree at Sam Houston State Teachers College last semester and will receive it along with other members of the June graduating class.

That in itself is no more than other students have done. But the fact that Miss Hendon is the first graduate of Texas' oldest teachers college to major in social work places her in the spotlight.

Upon completion of her course of study she was employed as junior interviewer in the Walker county Welfare Department where she is now working.

Miss Hendon compiled an enviable record while at Sam Houston college. She was vice-president of the Social Science Club, secretary of International Relations Club, member of the Y. W. C. A., Atlas Club, "Y" Cabinet, Kappa Delta Pi, Pi Gamma Mu, and Alpha Chi.

Star-Spangled Banner Subject Discussion Pickett H. D. Clubs

"The Star-Spangled Banner was made the national anthem of the United States of America by the Act of Congress, March 3, 1931. With careful study of each word it explains true history and reflects our love for the greatest anthem in the world," Mrs. Earl Ingham said as she spoke to the Pickett Home demonstration Club, February 23 in the home of Mrs. W. W. Martin.

"During the British Bombardment on Fort McHenry in Baltimore in 1812," Mrs. Ingham continued, "Francis Scott Key sailed to sea under a flag of truce to try to obtain the release of a friend held prisoner by the British. He, too, was captured and held prisoner. From the boat he watched the battle but at break of day he could see the American flag waving over the Fort and knew that America was still safe. It was on the return trip to shore that Key wrote the Star-Spangled Banner," Mrs. Ingham concluded.

Plans were made to have a forty-two party at the school, Thursday night, March 5. Admission will be 5 and 10 cents.

The hostess served pimento cheese sandwiches, cookies and punch to 15 regular members, four new members, Mmes. O. G. Sutton, W. H. Hardin, Don Borsellino, and David Blood, and two visitors, Mrs. G. B. McKey and Miss Velma McKey.

The next meeting will be on March 9.

CORSICANA, TEX., FEB. 27, 1942

THE BIG FIRE.

Things move fast now, and vast powers wash back and forth.

The premier of Australia warns us that this world war "can be lost in the Pacific." Our own experts say the battle front, which lately seemed so distant, has come 3,000 miles nearer. That is on our western front — and the eastern front is stirring with fresh life and peril.

Millions of Americans who have been rather Missourian about the war are now beginning to realize that this is a four-alarm fire, and so big that it may take all the fire engines on earth to put it out.

So we're waking up at last, while there is still a little time. And our substitute for the figurative fire department is air power. Every incident of this war has emphasized the importance of war planes. Fortunately we Americans can produce them bigger, better and faster than any other country, and we're just beginning to come into mass production.

First that Rising Sun of Japan must be blasted out of the skies. Then we can cover Hitler Land with our bombing planes.

EGGS FOR DEMOCRACY

According to a dispatch from Vichy, France, the authorities there are getting after chickens that don't do their duty. The hens are to be severely regimented. Every patriotic hen, they insist, should be able to produce 100 eggs a year, and the minimum should be fifty. Failure to live up and lay up to these requirements may bring a death penalty.

The hens, though, are probably clucking cynically. They are in the fix of the ancient Hebrews in their Egyptian captivity, who were asked to make bricks without straw. The hens may have some straw to scratch in, but how can they be expected to lay without grain? As for execution, they might say: "If you think there's any meat on our bones, go ahead."

There must be somewhat of an egg famine in England, too. People there get one egg a month. Americans can hardly imagine that.

TIME

The transition from whatever chronology any section of the country has been using, to the time ordered from Washington and aimed at making everybody get up earlier, went into operation very smoothly. This seems to have been the first time the government took Father Time in hand with such vigor and uniformity. We have been accustomed to time-control by local regions, taken in hourly or half-hourly segments from east to west, aiming roughly at keeping up with the sun or running a little ahead. Now the country as a whole is farther ahead of him than ever before.

Here and there you still meet an old-timer who growls about preferring "God's time." But when such a malcontent is pinned down to facts, he has to admit that any kind of precise time-keeping, whether by clocks or sun-dials or hour glasses or electric vibrations, has usually been handled by methods with which God had very little to do. We may almost be said to make our own time; and the more civilized we get, the more we adapt what you might call "raw time" to our own purposes.

But time itself remains a great mystery. Does anybody know what it is?

PAVING THE SEAS

It is impressive to read about those 1,799 torpedo boats and other minor vessels for the navy authorized by Congress, with an immediate expenditure of $750,000,000, eventually rising to $3,000,000,000. How we toss money around nowadays! But it seems queer that they didn't make it an even 1800 boats. Maybe, though, making the boats even would have made the cost odd. Such things are mysteries. In government things never come out even.

Be that as it may, we shall cover the sea with ships before we get through with this war, "pave it with bottoms" as a nautical man might say. And when we have won, we'll try not to let the shipping that did it lie rotting in a thousand harbors. We should find a peaceful use for it this time in reviving trade and weaving the world together again.

THAT SUGAR PROBLEM

Nobody could be blamed for buying a few extra pounds of sugar before rationing began. Laying in, say, ten or twenty pounds for a family, while the market was still free, was thrifty rather than criminal.

But to buy and hoard sugar by hundreds of pounds, as so many people did, and then conceal it by all kinds of furtive measures when such action by thousands of people had created an artificial scarcity, that was and is a very unlovely thing. At the least, such action is "anti-social," and that word in times like these should be a term of deep reproach.

It's a matter of sportsmanship. If people were at sea on a raft, they would share their biscuits. The principle here is about the same.

The buying of automobile tires, while the market was still open, was not so bad. Few men, dealers say, bought more than they needed. And some observers say men wouldn't hoard sugar the way many women have done. That, however, is hard to prove.

If things look bad now, recall the spring of 1917. The allies had just suffered a fearful reverse on the Western front, and submarines were sinking so much British shipping that Admiral Jellicoe reported Great Britain would have to surrender by Nov. 1. Then we got going.

The British, in spite of some of our schoolboy impressions, kept the seas free most of the time while we were growing up, and we have to stand by and do our bit now.

A Polish immigrant wrote in a daily composition for her English instructor, "An ignorant man gets his thinks from somebody else, but an intelligent man works his own thinks."

HOME TRAFFIC JAM

It is not me they come to see,
Who park their cars before the door
And block the homeward path to me
Despite the warnings oft before.
Not me with whom they wish to chat
And drink the cola or the pop;
I'm much too gray and stout for that,
'Tis not to visit me they stop.

They come for miles from east and west
And north and south in ancient cars;
But in the pocket of the vest
For me are carried no cigars.
'Tis not for me the horns are blown
And brakes give out that grinding sound;
The fact is, if the truth were known,
They'd rather I'd not be around.

They do not come my health to seek,
Nor ask my thought when war will end.
This traffic jam, from week to week,
Is not because of things I've penned.
Those battered vehicles are there
In what appears an endless line,
Because I have a daughter fair
They're devotees of hers, not mine.

YOUR FEDERAL INCOME TAX

No. 41
AUTOMOBILE DEDUCTIONS

With the number of automobile owners registering in the millions, the question of deductions for the cost of operation and maintenance of a motorcar frequently arises. The purchase price of an automobile, whether it is to be used for business or pleasure, cannot be deducted from gross income. If used for business, it is a capital expenditure; if used for pleasure, it is a personal expenditure—both deductions being expressly prohibited by the income tax law.

Several deductions, however, are allowable in connection with the cost of operation of an automobile used either for business or pleasure. If used exclusively for business, deductions may be taken for the cost of gasoline, oil, repairs, garage rent, amounts paid for insurance, and other necessary operation and upkeep expenses, as well as damages paid for injury to another while the car was being used for business purposes and losses sustained by reason of damage to the car while being used for such purposes, provided such damages and losses are not covered by insurance or otherwise. Depreciation based on the cost of the car and its estimated useful life also is deductible.

Other deductible items, irrespective of whether the car is used for business or pleasure, are sums paid during the taxable year for personal property taxes and municipal taxes, interest and money borrowed for the purchase of a car, and losses by fire or storm or theft, to the extent not compensated for by insurance or otherwise.

A loss occasioned by damage to an automobile maintained for pleasure, where such damage results from the faulty driving of the taxpayer or other person operating the automobile, but is not due to the willful act of negligence of the taxpayer, is a deductible loss in the computation of net income. If damage to a taxpayer's automobile results from the faulty driving of the operator of an automobile with which the automobile of the taxpayer collides, the loss occasioned to the taxpayer by such damage is likewise deductible.

Fees paid for automobile inspection and automobile title registration of automobiles used for pleasure are not ordinarily allowable deductions.

No. 42
DEDUCTION FOR TAX ON MOTOR GAS

If an automobile is used for both business and pleasure, those maintenance and operating expenses which constitute allowable deductions for Federal income tax purposes should be allocated to the two uses on the basis of the time the car is used for each. For example, if the total expense of operation and maintenance, plus depreciation, for the taxable year amounted to $800, and the car was used three-fourths of the time for business and the balance of the time for pleasure, the allowable deduction, for Federal income tax purposes, would be $600.

In general, taxes are deductible only by the person upon whom they are imposed and by whom they are paid. If the State law imposing a tax on gasoline by its terms imposes the tax on the consumer and not on the dealer, the consumer may deduct as a tax, for Federal income tax purposes, the amount of the gasoline tax paid by him; but the taxpayer must have kept records of the payment of such taxes in order that the deduction may be substantiated as is required by the regulations. The Federal gasoline tax is not deductible by the consumer. The taxpayer may ascertain whether a State gasoline tax is deductible by the consumer or by the dealer by addressing an inquiry to the collector of internal revenue for his district.

In any case where the gasoline purchased is used for business purposes, the tax may be regarded as a part of the cost of the gasoline and deducted as a business expense; but in such case the gasoline tax cannot be deducted separately as a tax under the item of taxes.

No. 43
DEDUCTION FOR TRAVELING EXPENSES

To obtain a deduction for traveling expenses, which form an important item in the returns of many taxpayers, certain regulations must be observed. The taxpayer is required to attach to his return a statement showing the nature of business in which engaged, number of days away from home during the taxable year on account of business, total amount of expense incidental to meals and lodging, and total amount of "other expenses" incident to travel and claimed as a deduction. Among the "other expenses" are tips, provided they are reasonable in amount.

Traveling expenses are deductible only when the trip is on business. They are limited to such expenses ase reasonable and necessary in the conduct of the business and directly attributable to it.

Traveling expenses incurred in connection with a journey to another city to accept or seek employment are not deductible. Suburbanites who commute daily from their homes to their places of business are not permitted to deduct the cost of transportation, it being a personal expense.

Claims for deduction for traveling expenses must be substantiated when required by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue showing in detail the amount and nature of the expense incurred.

No. 44
DEDUCTION FOR LOSSES OTHER THAN FROM SALE OR EXCHANGE OF CAPITAL ASSETS

Deductions for losses are divided into four classes, and to be allowed must follow closely the wording of the income tax law (1) in the taxpayer's trade, business, or profession; (2) in any transaction entered into for profit: (3) from fires, storms, shipwreck, or other casualties, or from theft; and (4) from wagering transactions.

Business losses result, from the purchase and sale of merchandise. Such losses usually are ascertained by means of inventories, which are required whenever in the opinion of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue their use is necessary to determine the income of any taxpayer.

The term "transaction entered into for profit" means any kind of business proposition. For example, a taxpayer purchases an automobile to be used solely for business purposes, and which is sold at a loss. As this is a business proposition from start to finish, the loss is deductible. But if he had purchased the automobile to be used for pleasure or convenience, the deduction would not be allowed; it was a transaction entered into for profit.

A loss sustained in the theft of an automobile purchased for pleasure or convenience is deductible, as it falls in class 3. If, because of faulty driving but not of "wilful negligence," an automobile maintained for pleasure is damaged, the taxpayer may claim the loss sustained, as it comes within the meaning of the word "casualty." Where damages result from the faulty driving of an automobile with which the automobile of the taxpayer collides, the loss occasioned to the taxpayer likewise is deductible.

Losses from wagering transactions, whether legal or illegal, are deductible only to the extent of gains from such transactions. The excess of such losses over the gains is not deductible.

All losses are deductible only to the extent to which they are not compensated for by insurance or otherwise.

No. 45
ITEMS NOT DEDUCTIBLE

Personal, living, or family expenses and capital expenditures are not deductible items in the computation of the statutory net income, whereas all the ordinary and necessary expenses of carrying on any trade or business are deductible.

In the event a taxpayer is engaged in an occupation which requires the use of equipment, as in the cases of Army officers, ball players, firemen, aviators, nurses, and surgeons, the cost of such is deductible only to the extent (1) that it is specifically required and (2) that it does not take the place of ordinary clothing. Thus, expenditures for the purchase and cleaning of jockeys' uniforms aand baseball uniforms of professional baseball players and the cost of raincoats, boots, and helmets of city firemen and policemen are allowable deductions, while the cost of uniforms of Army and Navy officers, nurses, railway trainmen, barbers, and surgeons is a personal expense and not deductible.

Among other nondeductible items of expense paid or incurred by tax payers during the taxable year there may be mentioned premiums on life insurance policies, insurance paid on a dwelling owned and occupied by a taxpayer, amounts expended in seeking a position or in traveling to the place of a new position, commuters' fares, the cost of post-graduate courses, bar examination fees, expenditures for the maintenance and operation of an automobile used for personal convenience and not by reason of necessity in connection with a business, sums paid out as alimony and as an allowance under a separation agreement, penalty payments with respect to Federal taxes—whether on account of negligence, delinquency, or fraud—amounts paid by a parent to unemancipated minor children for services rendered by such minor children, and amounts deducted and withheld from the basic salary, pay, or compensation of employees in the civil service of the United States for the retirement fund or from the wages or salary of other employees as Federal old-age benefit tax.

Kerens Woman Was Honored at Surprise Birthday Party

KERENS, Feb. 24.—(Spl.)—Mrs. S. S. Ford was most agreeably surprised on her 70th birthday, Thursday, Feb. 19th, with a delightful party and open house celebration held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. B. Smith, with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. R. E. Ford, co-hostess.

Some 60 or more guests called between the hours of 3 and 5 p. m. to extend greetings and good wiches to the honoree who looks much younger than the ascribed three score and ten.

The reception suite was colorfully beautiful with arrangements of deep hued Japonica, white crocus, narcissi and other spring flowers. In the dining room the three-tiered cake, which occupied the center of the table and which was daintily decorated with pastel shaded flower circlets, and the words "Happy Birthday," was the focus of attention, flanked on either side by pink and white linghted tapers.

An unusually large blooming Christmas cacti in the chosen pink shade added a charming touch to the dining room, where tea and pink and white angel food squares were served throughout the afternoon.

Assisting the hostesses were Miss Maurine Sherrill, Mrs. A. L. Bain, and Mrs. Carrie McKinney who poured at altenate intervals. The guest book was in charge of Mrs. Ford's two granddaughters, Mrs. Lee B. Smith of Tyler and Miss Ainnie B. Ford of Kerens.

A varied array of lovely and useful gifts which had been sent, added to the surprise feature of the occasion and will serve as mementoes of the happy date for years to come.

Some Ministers Will Be Unable Get Tires

AUSTIN, Feb. 24.—(AP)—Clarification of eligibility qualifications for ministers means that many of them cannot purchase new tires and tubes, the state rationing administrator's office revealed today.

Mark McGee, state administrator, explained the latest ruling stipulates that a vehicle which is operated by a regular practicing minister of any religious faith, which is used principally in, and is necessary to the performing of religious duties is made eligible.

"This includes ministers, priests or Rabbis who in the course of their religious calling require vehicles to meet the religious need of the congregation which they serve," said McGee.

Tires and tubes will be denied those who are not ordained by the regularly constituted church authority and those who have public transportation facilities available, even if they have charges in more than one city.

The administrator said the regulations were intended primarily for the relief of ministers who serve churches and congregations in rural and other outlying areas which are not served reasonably by public transportation facilities.

Local boards, he said, should use extreme caution in passing on applications.

PRESENT DANGERS TO ALL DEMOCRACIES IS DISCUSSED BY JUDGE

WAYNE HOWELL URGED ALL OUT AID TO INSURE VICTORY IN CONFLICT

Declaring that America today is facing the same dangers that beset George Washington and his army at Valley Forge when the American forces were retreating and ill-equipped, District Judge Wayne R. Howell Tuesday night urged all-out material, spiritual and if need be, sacrifice of our lives, to insure victory in the present conflict.

Judge Howell was addressing a joint meeting of the Navarro County American Legion posts and citizens at the district courtroom. Fred H. Harvey, Navarro County bonds and stamps sale chairman and vice chairman of the Sixth congressional district, also spoke relative to the campaign to have stamp pledges signed by every person in Navarro County and the American Legion posts of Corsicana, Frost and Kerens pledged to carry out this campaign. Fred V. Blucher, post commander of Johnson-Wiggins Post No. 22, American Legion, Corsicana, presided. Accordion solos given by Miss Adele Blucher, daughter of the post commander, were features. The singing of patriotic songs was led by Gabe Goldberg. Rev. Robert F. Bristol, minister of the First Christian Church.

Pledge System.

Harvey outlined the new system of pledges, and said that while the Navarro County quota was a large one, it is being regularly handled. The systematic purchase of bonds and stamps is the best way to win the war, Harvey continued, and was the way the government had requested.

Commander Blucher presented W. C. Wasson and Jodie L. Sheppard, commanders at Kerens and Frost, respectively; Mrs. W. H. Milam, Jr., head of the Auxiliary, and Andrew G. Steele, division commander of the Texas American Legion.

The three post commanders formally pledged their acceptance of the campaign request.

In the beginning of his remarks, Judge Howell explained the pledge and urged that everyone buy as many stamps as possible. He said for each person to ask himself as a freeborn American, to make the pledge to the best of his ability.

In discussing the enormous cost, Judge Howell said that it is estimated that it will cost America $156,000,000,000 by the end of 1943.

Freedom or Slavery.

"We have the choice today of victory and freedom or slavery and ruin," he pointed out, and then asserted that an overwhelming debt, but with freedom, was worth a thousand times more than the other alternative.

He praised the stamp pledge plan as a democratic and American way whereby the humblest citizen of the nation can have a part and that a person unable to buy more than a 10-cent stamp was supporting his government.

Turning to the main portion of his address, the district judge referred to the observance Sunday of the birthday of George Washington, the leader of the American forces for freedom and the first president of the American republic. He pointed out that Washington's acceptance in those times was not a friendly one and he was not praised as the father of his country," but was the victim of criticism and calumny in difficult and trying times, and when men of great stamina and character were required to carry through. He pointed out the continued retreats of the ill-armed, ill-clad and poorly-fed soldiers under Washington and the bitter winter spent in Valley Forge. He said the Revolutionary war was a long, bitter and discouraging struggle for eight years.

Listing liabilities facing Washington at Valley Forge, Judge Howell said, they included privation, hunger, discouragement, inferiority in manpower and equipment, political meddling by the Continental Congress and Tory appeasers. Assets referred to were faith in the cause and compatriots, confidence of the rank and file in Washington, and the protecting arm of God to whom Washington prayed daily which were enough to bring victory in eight years.

Present Danger.

Listing liabilities facing America today are the attitude of many Americans that the war is too far away from us, shunning realities, not recognizing present and imminent dangers except those with loved ones on the firing line, etc. He warned that privations and want may come to us. Other liabilities listed were superior manpower and weapons on the site of the battlefields, indifference, ingratitude and later appeasers.

"There are already evidences that appeasement has not vanished from among us, he said, and then pointed out how the isolation formerly afforded us by the oceans is now gone as modern warfare reaches any section of the globe. He referred to a Japanese submarine shelling the Pacific Coast while President Roosevelt was addressing the nation Monday night.

The speaker then warned it was probable and possible that the Atlantic, Pacific and Gulf Coasts will be subjected to attacks. He stressed the necessity of furthering civilian defenses, and remarked there was nothing to keep New York City, Washington and the gulf ports from being bombed.

"The war is coming home and has already done so to thousands of homes," he asserted, while other homes are represented at Bataan with Gen. MacArthur. He expressed the hope that the war can be fought far away from the wives and children of America, but said "anyone saying that the war cannot come here is silly and foolish and needs to be in an institution."

We Are To Blame.

Turning to another portion of his address, Judge Howell asserted that none but ourselves (the American people) are to blame for the unpreparedness, but that he "is tired of criticism, bickering by people who do nothing but stand on the streets and criticise and talk how the war should be conducted and won."

Judge Howell declared that wars are not won by money, production, but my manpower and willpower of an unconquerable people, wholehearted and united, willing to sacrifice time, energy and their lives if necessary to bring victory. He said that peace loving people never were prepared for war, for it is against their ideals, but he asserted that he thanked God now that although unprepared, America had not lost former wars, and she will not lose this one.

Terming that there is only two alternatives in the famous statement of Patrick Henry, "Victory or death," Judge Howell said America is faced with victory or slavery and ruin

"I believe our people are waking up and are not so much asleep as some would have you believe," the judge continued, and voiced the conviction that the American people are ready to do what is necessary and that for Americans there is only one thing and that is "victory".

The speaker declared there was not any need or reason to be deceived as to that the axis aims are, as they have been pronounced and stressed from time to time by axis speakers. He said that Texas was better represented in Washington than some other states, and said that some leaders should be ashamed of some of the things they had put in the Congressional Record only a few months ago. He said that he preferred to say they were honestly mistaken, but it was a pitiful situation when the representatives of the people do that.

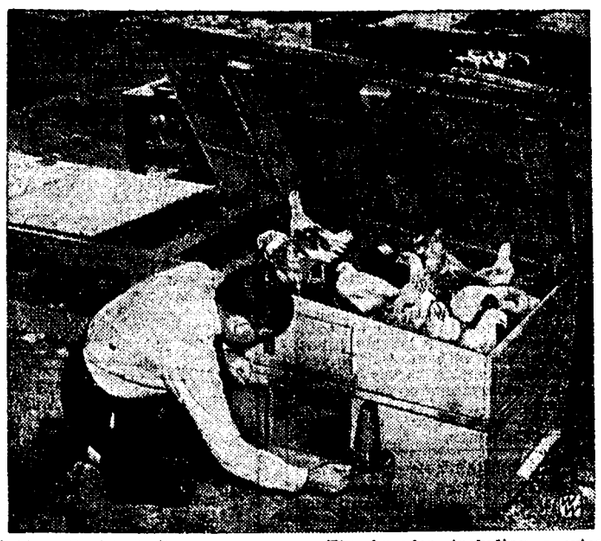

Judge Howell said the Italian people had been "sold down the river," but the aim of Germany and Japan was to destroy every democracy in the world and every democratic institution and substitute their plan of political serfdom and slavery through their boasted "racial superiority."

Same Problems Today.

He said the same human nature problems encountered by Washington are present today. He said like those with Washington, many of us criticise without knowing what we are talking about, but present day Americans are like those in the early days, in that they have a fundamental faith in our government and leaders. He said there would be mistakes, but that we must be willing to suffer defeats and misfortunes until superiority in manpower and weapons is secured, and the same faith in the Creator and each other, cooperate however humble, and all can prepare to give everything it takes for the preservation of this Republic.

"If we don't preserve this Republic," Judge Howell declared," the lighthouse of Democracy will have been snuffed out," as he concluded his address.

Widwe World Features

Clyde Ingram, extension poultryman at Louisiana State University Baton Rouge, has developed a chicken brooder that can be built in spare time with about $7 worth of materials. It cares for 75 to 100 chicks.

The brooder—including a wire-enclosed sun porch—is about nine feet long, four feet wide, and two feet high. Ingram got the idea on a visit to F. T. Smith's farm at Gueydan, La. A pamphlet distributed free by the LSU extension service gives plans and instructions for building the brooder.

CORSICANA FUTURE FARMERS CHAPTER IN FATHER-SON BANQUET

R. LANO BARRON, FORMER LOCAL TEACHER, DELIVERED MAIN ADDRESS

Corsicana Chapter Future Farmers of America held their third annual Father and Son banquet Tuesday night in the cafeteria of the high school. Over 600 other chapters in the Texas Association of Future Farmers of America held banquets at the same time and all heard a radio address by Gov. Coke R. Stevenson, who briefly outlined the accomplishments of the FFA in the past year and told of the plans for the ensuing year. Governor Stevenson complimented the FFA members and members of the 4-H clubs as well as their activities on behalf of the war efforts of the government. He said that they were not only assisting in raising food to supply the nation but were busily engaged in assisting in the sales as well as purchases of government bonds and stamps.

R. Lano Barron, former agriculture teacher in the Corsicana high schol and now a member of the executive staff at Austin, delivered the main address in which he urged the FFA members to meet the challenge and "not to let Uncle Sam down with too little and too late."

The program of the FFA in the present emergency formed the basis of Mr. Barron's address and he outlined a number of ways in which members could assist. He mentioned a number of "Victory Projects" which the boys could carry out through their order.

Can Accomplish Much.

Mr. Barron told the boys that they could accomplish much through increased production in all lines, particularly in dairying, beef cattle, chickens, hogs and victory gardens. He also said that they could assist others in increasing and expanding production by sharing the knowledge gained through their efforts and through the instruction received from their advisor.

Mr. Barron was introduced by W. H. Norwood, superintendent of the Corsicana public schools.

Albert James, president of the chapter, presided and was toastmaster for the occasion.

Charles Henry Harrison gave the invocation.

The address of welcome was given by Neil Gay and J. I. Ellett responded for the fathers.

The musical feature of the program was a baritone solo by Willie Schluneger, who was accompanied by Miss Chanda Acock.

Accomplishments Outlined.

David Hand, watch dog of the chapter, outlined the accomplishments for the past year. He said that this year the chapter was organized with a paid up membership of 48 and that 24 of these members were initiated as Green Hands before November 1. Twenty boys in the chapter attained the Future Farmer degree, which is the highest degree a boy can receive in his second year, he addad.

Among the many other things outlined by David in listing the accomplishments of the chapter were that 44 boys were engaged in conservation of soil, that 15,000 feet of terrace lines had been run, that 36,000 feet of contour ridges were run and constructed, that 100 per cent of the vocational agriculture students have a three year program of supervised farming, that 10 boys were engaged in a one variety corn crop program of improved seed corn, that 44 boys have individual libraries with at least 25 bulletins on their projects, that last October the chapter sent Neil Gay, Thomas Hand, Quinten S. Matthews and David Hand to represent them in the National FFA convention in Kansas City, that the chapter recently conducted a two weeks pest eradication campaign, that last fall the chapter had educational booths in numerous fairs, including the Corsicana Livestock Show, and many other worthwhile things.

THIS MANS WORK ASSUMES A VITAL NEW IMPORTANCE

War has changed the activity of hosts of Americans. In the automobile industry, highly skilled men, who yesterday were turning out automobiles, today are using that same skill to produce implements of war—ships, tanks, guns, planes. Uncle Sam has decreed priority for armament orders. As a consequence, production of automobiles has been eliminated. This means that only a small percent of new automobiles required to supply the normal demand are available.

Millions and millions of cars now in use will have to serve their owners for long periods, possibly until the war is over, and peacetime production is resumed. This situation places a new responsibility on the man who maintains cars. His work assumes vital new importance. This man must keep 'em running...indefinitely.

No need to worry!...You can trust the life of your car to his skill and care with confidence. But, just like your doctor, you must consult him at the first signs of trouble to guard against serious complications, or better still, take your car to him every time the speedometer registers another 5,000 miles...(The manufacturer of your car advises it)...for an examination—tune-up—as a preventive measure. As it is better to stop slight illness before it develops dangerously, so is it better to correct minor trouble before it becomes serious.

The man who maintains automobiles is a man of integrity. His earnest desire is to serve you well, giving you 100 cents worth of car-saving service for every dollar charged. The skill that took him years to acquire—in training and practice—is available to you the instant you ask for it. He follows high ethical standards in operating his business, like all other successful business men. He is conscientious, taking pride in turning out good work. He has secured expensive equipment which is mechanically infallible in detecting troubles.

gun emplacements, and slow down war operations by causing blackouts.

The secretary said his information was contained in a report from Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, and apparently was based on reports to Marshall from army officials in California.

"My only comment," Stimson said, "is that perhaps it is better to be too alert than not alert enough."

Stimson said he had no explanation of the statement that neither army nor navy planes were in action, and he did not explain what was meant by "commercial sources."

Stimson said the army's investigation of the incident was continuing.

HEALTH, BEAUTY AND POISE

HOW TO IMPROVE YOUR PERSONALITY
By VERONICA DENGEL

THE LUXURY OF CLEANLINESS.

Veronica Dengel

I recently heard of a remark made by Dr. Mark A. McCloskey, director of recreation in the office of the Coordinator of Health, Welfare and Related Defense Activities of the Federal Government. (My goodness, what titles, and departpartment names we do have these days!) Dr. McCloskey said that our present army was the "cleanest, washingest army in the world. The first thing the soliers do when they come to town is wash, wash, wash." And what a fine tribute that is to the training they were given by their mothers at home.

This desire for constant cleansing, however, has created a big problem of supplying soap and facilities for these men—and what could be a better effort when the result is a freedom from epidemics in any of the camps. "This fine state of affairs is due in great part to the habits of cleanliness in the men," Dr. McCloskey says

The is only another proof of the education programs that have been conducted during the past generation on the great importance of bodily cleanliness to maintain bodily health. The habit of cleanliness is so easy to acquire—and, once acquired, a most difficult habit to fall away from. There is keen satisfaction in the knowledge that the body is freshly scrubbed and washed, that the clothes have been nicely laundered and pressed—that the hair, teeth and nails have been given their required attention. I know of no other satisfaction that can equal it.

After a long trip, or a hard business day, what is more relaxing than a warm tub, fresh clothes, perhaps a brief nap. You are then ready for another job, if necessary, so perked up do you feel! Tumbling into bed after coming home from long hours of toil or travel, may seem your greatest desire at the moment—but you will sleep better, and feel better whn you awaken if, you will take just the few minutes equired for that tub bath.

Just recently I drove 500 miles in one day. I entered my apartment so weary that bed seemed heaven. But while I undressed, my daughter drew my tub with nice pine salts added to it. I soaked and scrubbed, and when I emerged into the bedroom, she had my bed turned down and a glass of fruit juice waiting for me. Climbing into bed, and sipping that juice in the low light was heaven. It is at such times that we appreciate the little things our youngsters so willingly do for us, too, isn't it. Then, when I had heard an account of the week's doings, I fell off to sleep — to sleep peacefully all the way around the clock! Such luxury cannot be exceeded even by the richest people in the world, now can it?

Roy Moore Finishes Basic Training At California Field

TAFT, Calif., Feb. 26.—(Spl.)—Aviation Cadet Roy M. Moore, Jr., a member of class 42-D, was graduated from the basic flying course at Gardner Field at this point during this week, and has proceeded to one of the Air Corps Advanced Flying Schools for the final period of his training before receiving his pilot's wings and army commission.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy M. Moore, 1203 West Thirteenth Avenue, Corsicana.

INVESTMENT FUNDS HELD IN TRUST MAY BE USED BUY BONDS

There is a possibility that defense bonds sales in Navarro county may be considerably augmented in the event that a movement now being investigated by E. D. McCormick, county judge, can be legally done.

Judge McCormick, who also presides in the probate court, is seeking ways and means whereby funds of minors, and others whose properties are subject to the orders of the county judge, can be invested in defense bonds. In numerous instances, funds in trust are maintained in banks and are not drawing interest, and Judge McCormick states that investment of those funds in defense bonds would not only aid in the war effort of the nation, but would also increase the amount of the trust funds by the interest.

There is also the possibility that trust funds under the orders of the district court may be thus invested, it was pointed out.

Tax Expert Visited Corsicana Thursday

THE WAR TODAY

allies, thereby creating bad feeling and doing untold damage to morale. These people either have tongues which are loose at both ends, or are impelled by personal animosity. Here's a common query, which is the product of pro-axis cunning:

"What's the matter with the British; they haven't won a victory since the war started?"

Nothing could be further from the truth than that. Where would the allied cause be today if the British navy hadn't at the outset of this war had control of the seas, and continued to maintained that domination until finally America could take a hand? I'll tell you where the cause would be:

An Ugly Picture.

Fuehrer Hitler would long ago have been sitting on the throne of the English Kings in Westminister Abbey, lord of all he surveyed, instead of expending his energies trying to break through the blockade which Britain sturdily has maintained about the continent. As already remarked, control of the sea is one of the fundamentals upon which the allies will triumph ultimately, and yet unthinking or vicious people pick up the axis propaganda and broadcast that the British aren't pulling their weight.

There is still another class of people who unwittingly are serving the Nazi chief. David Low, the brilliant British cartoonist, has summed these folk up in his famous character "Colonel Blimp," who represents the reactionary elements in all walks of life.

Sir Stafford Cripps, new leader of the British house of commons in the Churchill government, referred to "blimpery" yesterday in his first speech in the house since he took over this post. He blamed "Colonel Blimp mentality" of reactionary military and governmental administrators for helping Britain lose part of her colonial empire. But Blimps aren't confined to England. We have plenty in this country.

Rev. R. J. Fletcher To Preach at Farmer

Rev. R. J. Fletcher will preach at the Farmer Baptist church Sunday at the regular hour, it has been announced. Regular preaching days at the church are the second and fourth Sundays, but bad weather prevented services last Sunday.

Attendance and interest are increasing in the Sunday school at the church and an invitation is extended the general public to attend and take part in the services.

Nazi Subs Sink Seven Ships?

EUROPEAN WAR

this period was more than twice the 10-day span of battle outlined by the Russians, Soviet dispatches told of fierce resistance by German artillery, mortar and machine-gun crews.

The Southern Donets basin was reported by the Moscow radio to be a scene of violent fighting in which 6,000 Germans have died.

German submarines, credited in Washington with having attacked 45 ships in American coastal waters from Jan. 1 to Feb. 23, chalked up another victim in the 5,686-ton British tanker La Carriere.

She sank after being torpedoed late Tuesday night in the Caribbean 75 miles south of Puerto Rico. Four of her crew were killed. Twenty-three survivors landed yesterday at Guanica, Puerto Rico.

A report by Secretary Knox Dec. 21 that 14 German underseas raiders had been destroyed or damaged was supplemented by the navy last night with the statement it had good reason to believe that three more had been sunk and four others damaged by U. S. action in the Atlantic.

Sir Saufford Cripps, Britain's new Lord Privy Seal, was acclaimed by London newspapers for a declaration that the government would clamp down soon on sports events and other diversions as inconsistent with "solid and serious" work toward victory.

The Sketch said: "Here is a new voice, a stimulating voice."

The Germans announced that British planes dropped high explosives and incendiaries at some places on the German coast in the night, including the port of Kiel.

DNB, German news agency, insisted "there was no military damage."

TIME FACTOR IN WAR AND IN LIFE IS DETERMINATIVE*

British Broadcast Ticking of Clock—President Threatens Axis With Years to Come—Jesus Tells of the Part That Time Plays in Progress of His Kingdom.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

One of the shrewdest recent propaganda devices of the British is to broadcast into Germany the measured ticking of a clock, with the reminder that for every tick a German soldier has fallen. Simple, ominous, inexorable, the clock ticks on, as a monition of defeat and death. This reminder must eat into the morale of the enemy more bitingly than elaborate propaganda arguments.

Time is the foe most to be feared. In his great address to Congress in January, President Roosevelt threatened the Axis Powers with the years. Today may seem to be theirs; but tomorrow—the long tomorrow that will stretch into years—is inevitably ours. Concerning truth, the poet wrote.

"The eternal years of God are hers."

In life as in war, time is of the essence. Only the long look sees things in perspective and proportion. One of the simplest and clearest of the parables of the wisest of all teachers stressed this point, he He drove it into the consciousness and program of His newly-chosen Apostles.

Time: A Terror and a Hope.

One of the most awesome facts about God is that He takes time. He is never in a hurry. Over and over again the Bible stresses this truth, which is one of the most baffling aspects of the Deity. It is the explanation of all delayed and mysterious providences, and of all seemingly unanswered prayers. In God's sight, "A thousand years are as a day." He dwells and acts in an eternal now; and He bids His children wait for Him. Most unbelief is due to human impatience. As Jesus once reminded His disciples, "What I do thou knowest not now, but thou shalt know hereafter."

As time is the terror of the transgressor, so it is the hope of the faithful. Those who, to any degree, enter into the patience of God find a peace that nothing transitory can ruffle.

In a figure that farmers best appreciate, Jesus likened the Kingdom to the planted seed. Once the seed is sown, there is little the farmer can do about it. He must simply wait the mysterious processes of nature. In quiet, vivid words, the Teacher painted the familiar picture. (Mark 4: 26-29).

In Quietness and Confidence.

This quiet confidence of Christ in the sure growth of the Kingdom, and in the patient processes of God, should hearten us all in war time. If, as we reverently believe, we are contending for the objectives which are set forth in the revealed will of God, then we should fight and wait and work and sacrifice in the unshakable assurance of victory and a better world. There is no warrant for panic or fear: "In quietness and in confidence shall be your strength," is the Scripture teaching. It calms the heart to know that we are cooperating with the vast purposes of the Infinite. The Kingdom is coming, said Jesus, like the gentle, patient growing things of nature. Thus He encouraged the Apostles at the outset of their service.

Another simple parable from nature, related by the Teacher from His field pulpit, was that of the mustard seed. One needs to see for himself the minuteness of this seed to sense fully the significance of the story. The monks who have charge of the site of the Pool of Bethesda in Jerusalem long ago established a Bible museum, in which they show samples of all the objects mentioned in Scripture. I know of nothing else like it in the world. Here on display is a tray full of minute mustard seed. One gazes in wonder: can it be that from these tiny particles the flourishing mustard trees will grow?

The King's Great Title.

That is the point of the parable. How small and feeble was the little group of commonplace men that Jesus had gathered about Himself as the nucelus of the Kingdom! The petty Roman governor, and the Jewish Sanhedrin, thought they could extirpate it easily. But wait; "despise not the day of small things." That mustard-seed Kingdom grew and grew, despite all opposition, until today it spreads over the whole globe; and now, of a sudden, seems about to develope into a new way of life for all mankind. The king of the proudest empire on earth calls himself the "defender of the Faith."

Into the mind of every one who studies this Lesson there rush reminders of other small beginnings that had great endings—the Jesuit missionaries overcoming the hardships of the territory that became Canada; the Pilgrims at Plymouth Rock; Paul and Barnabas and John Mark setting out to conquer Asia; Martin Luther, John Wesley. General Booth, raising new banners that rallied great armies.

In every sphere of life, but especially in that of religion, we see confirmation of the Parable of the Mustard Seed. I talked this week with a great and godly and famous clergyman, the foremost preacher in his city; and all the while I kept thinking of the friend, now dead, who first gathered into a mission Sunday School a red-headed little ragmuffin from across the tracks, and led him, step by step into the ministry, where he has become the noble servant of God with whom I was talking. Ah! to be a planter of such mustard seeds!

"One Track Minds."

President Wilson professed to have a "one-track-mind"—although his mighty brain was a world-wide railway system—and that phrase has become famous. It really does describe many of us; and our track is narrow-gauge. In the religious realm especially many persons fail to perceive the vastness and variety of Christ's Kingdom. The multiplicity and diversity of the parables by which the Master portrayed the Kingdom should have pulled us out of our denominational and theological ruts. Kipling sang:

"There are nine-and-sixty ways
Of constructing tribal lays—
And every single one of them is right."

At almost one and the same time, Jesus likened the Kingdom to seed of various sorts; to hidden treasure; to a pearl of great price; to a net; to a householder and to other common features of the daily life amidst which He dwelt. Let us get it firmly fixed in our mind that the Kingdom of God comprises all the churches—the shouting Nazarene congregations as well as the dignified old Catholic churches; the tambourine-thumping Salvation Army as well as the formal Episcopalians; the Chinese believers in a mud house of worshiping in a kraal, as well as the Anglicans in Westminister Abbey.

In all forms, and by every avenue the indescribably assorted company of friends of Christ are patiently and surely bringing His Kingdom to triumph.

for a few extra dollars" President Roosevelt appealed to the senate against voting any restrictions on sales of the government surpluses.

The president's words of caution, contained in a letter to Vice President Wallace, presiding officer of the senate, occasioned several hours debate yesterday before the chamber rejected a compromise offered by Senator Brown and adopted, 50 to 23, the prohibition against sales of government-held surpluses below full parity levels.

Warnings that the measure might add an extra $1,00,000,000 to ascending living costs were denied by the farm-minded senate majority.

Losses out of convoys, the particular safeguard against submarine attacks, are just under one-half of one per cent of the cargo ships involved, he said. The trend of losses, however, has been seriously affected by the concentration of German U-boats off the American coast, he added.

Discussing the punishment inflicted on the Japanese, authorized naval spokesmen asserted that "they can't keep these losses up over a year with their building program." Unless Japan can succeed in making "this a quick and fast" war, he said, she could not hope to win under such conditions.

MEDICAL SCHOOL

Regents Negligent.

"4. The board of regents of the University of Texas have been grossly negligent in permitting the present conditions to grow and exist at the medical branch of the University of Texas. Regents, past and present, are primarily responsible for the decline into dirsepute of the medical branch. We charge you to shoulder your responsibility.

"5. Apart from the failure of the medical branch of the University of Texas to devote its full effort toward the production and training of doctors efficiently and with dispatch we have found no un-American activities at this institution.

Chairman, Jack Love.
Vice Chairman, Arthur Cato.
Marvin B. Simpson, Jr.
Pat Dwyer.
Jimmy Phillips.

Dr. Rainey had declared the fundemental issue was whether the college should be run as a state institution for the benefit of all Texans or by a group of local doctors for Galveston and the personal advantage of some of those doctors.

He asserted emphatically that the school should be moved to Austin, where the main university is located, and expressed the opinion that if it had been in the state capital the problem would never have arisen.

Other Changes Needed.

"The removal of the present dean without making other changes would not solve the fundamental problem," he said.

Critics of Spies, including one regent and a number of faculty members, had charged in previous hearings that the administrative methods of the dean were responsible, and had recommended his dismissal.

"Do you think it is a serious condition?" asked Rep. Jack Love of Fort Worth, committee chairman.

"I think it very serious," Rainey replied.

"Do you think it wise to move the school?" queried Rep. Marvin Simpson of Fort Worth, committee member.

"I do," said Rainey.

"Where?"

"Here in Austin. I believe none of these troubles would have occurred if the college had been in Austin."

Trouble of Long Standing.

Rainey testified the difficulties extending back many years and that since three years ago when Spies had moved to improve the school a well-organized and consistent attempt to drive him from his position" had been made.

"Affairs have reached such a state some drastic methods will doubtless have to be employed before the situation can be improved," he declared.

Among the unsound administrative principles he mentioned several administrative units functioning without proper definition of responsibilities and control of John Sealy Hospital by the city of Galveston. About two years ago the hospital control was returned to the university and more recently various changes in administration of the school have been instituted.

Driver of the bus, which operates between the air base and the city of Enid, a distance of about four miles, was Wendell Thomas Smith, 28, of Enid, a civilian.

Driver Tells of Accident

Hospital attendants said he would recover from his injuries.

Smith gave the following account of the crash:

"I had shifted into third gear and was slowing down to stop at the crossing but the road was so slick from snow I couldn't stop.

"When I saw the lights of the train bearing down through the snow I speeded up in an attempt to cross but I didn't quite make it. The train hit the back of the bus and turned it around.

"If I hadn't speeded up I would have landed right in the middle of the track.

Captain Hammond said he understood Smith stopped at the crossing.

The soldiers, all on leave, were returning to their base at 12:15 a.m. when the crash occurred.

Maj. W. A. Stephens, post adjutant, said the bus carried between 35 and 40 men There was not pilots aboard. He said there were no witnesses to the cash other than the bus occupants and the train crew.

Snow Was Responsible

Carl Puge, one of two investigating state highway patrolmen, said the snow was responsible for the crash.

"There was a heavy snow falling," he said, "and the driver of the bus started to make the required stop, but looked south down the track and saw the train coming.

"The bus wheels skidded on the snowy road and he saw he couldn't stop, so he tried to beat the train across.

"Men were scattered up and down the right of way after the crash and one of them was pinned under the wreckage.

"The bus was shattered at the point of contact."
